GANG AFTER LICENSE GRIP.

Bill for Excise Commissioners Controlled by Machine Ready.

A bill to establish an Excise Commission to supplant the Judge in acting on liquor license applications was introduced in the legislature. It would completely wipe out the judicial system of the Brooks high license law and place licensing in the hands of three Commissioners, to be appointed annually in each county by the Judge from the list supplied by the Auditor General.

Effort will be made to get the legislation through on the plea that some of the judges want to be relieved of the handling of the liquor licenses. It is understood that, so far, Senator Penrose has not agreed to use his influence for the bill and there is no assurance that he will do so.

The men who stood for local option in the House will naturally oppose Excise Commission plan. The same is true of a number of men who would not vote for local option. They think that the handling of the liquor question should not be taken out of the hands of courts. Others are of the opinion that it would be a political blunder to authorize such commissions, because of the tendency to play politics through them. The whole liquor question would be an annual issue in most counties in the State.

The names which the Auditor General is to submit to each Quarter Sessions Court in the State shall include seven attorneys. From the number the Court is to appoint three Commissioners, one of whom shall be a lawyer.

In addition to all other fees now paid by liquor license applicants, each must pay an additional $5 to the clerk of Courts, to be equally divided among the three Commissioners at the end of the year. The more applicants the greater will be the compensation.

When the license list has been completed, the Commissioners are to adjourn and cannot be called together for the purpose of hearing applicants until the following year, unless for special and extraordinary cause moving the Court to do so. There is a provision that a transfer of license made necessary by the death of the licensee may be heard by the Commissioners in chambers "at any time without further notice being given of such hearing than is required by law and the rules of the Court." All testimony taken at the hearings to be filed with the clerk of the courts.

The number of licenses to be granted in one year must be limited to one for each 1000 of population, "provided, however, that no application for a renewal of license to sell liquors at retail, existing at the time this act takes effect, shall be affected by the above limitation."

When cause is shown the Court can remove the commissioners and judgment of the Court shall not be subject to review.

All associations, clubs or other organizations desiring to sell liquor must file an application the same as a regular dealer.

The license fee is to be $250 and a bond for $2000 must be given. The sale of liquor must be confined to bona fide members.

All licenses granted by the commission are to be recognized as the personal property of the licensee and can be transferred to an executor or administrator in the case of death of the licensee. The licenses can be attached as other personal property for debt.

Bill in the Legislature.

Baldwin, Potter—Regulating the sale of lime and ground limestone for agricultural purposes.

Haye, Butler—Requiring hospitals receiving state aid to treat free of charge all veterans of the civil war now residents of the state.

To establish an excise commission to supplant the judges in acting on liquor licenses.

Taxing school bonds the same as municipal bonds.

A bill was introduced by Representative Alter, Allegheny, to require all private banks to take out a license from the state department of banking.

Representative Haggerty, Lackawanna, presented a bill to create a system of licensing barbers.

Mr. Fahey, Philadelphia, introduced a bill requiring all food containers to be marked with net capacity, under penalty of a fine from $200 to $500 or six months in prison.

Three of the revenue-raising bills were reported out, including the bill to tax surplus of banks, stocks and bonds of gas companies and traction engines.

Rev. McDowell's Mission Talk.

Rev. E. W. McDowell, a missionary on the border land between Turkey and Persia, gave a very interesting account of his work last Thursday evening in the Presbyterian church. His field of labor was the cradle of the human race and includes Turks, Kurds, and Nestorian Christians; hence he has a great variety of experiences. He is in the habit of making itineraries among these people, lasting sometimes as much as six months. His description of traveling over the steep, bare, roadless mountains, sleeping out in the open, or in a Nestorian hut which sheltered not only the owner's family but also his domestic animals whose friendly touch would sometimes awaken him in the night, his reception at a Kurdish chief's castle among a people ready to rob him should the chief not be willing to admit him, the fact that he had to be used in presenting the gospel and the foundations being laid for greater things in the future—all made an interesting story.

After the lecture he set forth the circumstances under which young Baskerville lost his life, making it clear that his act was not rash, as reported in some papers, but one of great bravery and unselfish devotion to the welfare of his fellow citizens. Only words of praise for the lecture have been heard.

Mrs. U. G. Auman Entertains.

Mrs. U. G. Auman, of Sober, on Friday evening, gave a supper to sixty members of the Spring Mills Ladies Temple, K. G. E. A souvenir bill of fair, like those used at the tender dinner at the Bellevue-Stratford, were found at each plate. Great merriment was occasioned by the orders given by some of the guests, because of their unacquaintance with French in which language the bill of fare was printed. Mrs. Warren Wood, of Sober, was the hostess. The bill of fare was printed. Mrs. Warren Wood, of Sober, was the hostess. The bill of fare was printed.

Impromptu speeches followed the supper. Mrs. Warren Wood talking on "Lost in Bellefonte." She held the attention of the guests until the joke was so good, and then she was taken to the head of the table and crowned "queen." Windom Gramley, "My trip to Belleville." Mrs. Braucht, "Intemperance in society." Miss Mabel Brown, "My late Male." The hobbie skirt dance was participated in by Mrs. Daniel McCool and Mrs. John Osman, and they were roundly applauded. The occasion was one long to be remembered by the participants. It can be truly said that the Ladies Temple of Spring Mills is doing a grand work.

Big Lumber Deal.

Messrs. J. M. Gilliland and John W. and Elmer Tressler, of New Bloomfield; W. O. Reardon, of Millroy; L. G. Reardon, of Centre Hall, and William Harter, of Coburn, recently closed one of the largest deals in timberland that has been consummated for some time. They purchased 2,515 acres of timberland in Powell and Menifee counties, Kentucky, paying therefor the sum of $175,000. It is estimated that there are 35,000,000 feet of lumber on the tract, mostly poplar, oak and hemlock. The land lies in the great basin, surrounded by a rocky rim of cliffs and in order to get the lumber out a tunnel, seven hundred feet long, is being cut through for a railroad. The price paid for the timberland includes the completion of this tunnel, and the erection and equipment of a huge sawmill and electric light plant. The parties interested have been on the tract of timber and also inspected the incomplete saw mill and other improvements, and are satisfied the investment to be an exceptionally good one.

A New Pen.

A bill passed by the legislature provides for a new penitentiary and the abandonment of the Pittsburgh pen. No location has been designated, but it is understood that one of the many state forestry reservations will be taken for that purpose, and a site well to the east is preferred, the object being to ultimately do away with the Philadelphia pen. The first work contemplated is to erect a wall about the proposed penitentiary site and this work is to be done by convict labor.

Increase For Carriers.

The R. F. D. News for March contains this information which will be appreciated by the local postmen and their patrons:

"After July 1, 1911, rural carriers will receive $1000 per year for routes of 24 miles or more, and a proportionate increase for routes of less length. Furthermore, there will be no danger of consolidation of rural delivery and star route service during the next fiscal year."

Williamsport Commercial College.

Spring term begins April 17th. The college will be open all summer. Over one hundred calls have been received this year for bookkeepers, stenographers and office help. Students entering this spring will be ready for positions in the fall. Write for catalogue and free trial lessons.

F. F. HEALEY, Proprietor.

The Grand View Poultry Farm and the Centre Hall Poultry Farm, conducted by A. E. Kerlin & Son and C. D. Bartholomew, respectively, are picking the first crop of day old chicks. The incubators at both plants are being run at full capacity to fill the orders booked early in the season.

If you have trouble in getting rid of your cold you may know that you are not treating it properly. There is no reason why a cold should hang on for weeks and it will not if you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by all dealers.

RECIPROCITY WITH CANADA.

With Apologies to Thomas Jefferson a Farmer Translates Reciprocity With Canada.

We, the people of the United States, who are living beyond our incomes, realize that in order to maintain our present standard of high living it is necessary to demand a reduction in the price of foodstuffs.

For, after careful examination, we have found that the farmer is actually making a small profit upon the produce we consume, which is inhuman and unjust.

We hold that our superiority over the farmer is true and self-evident, as agriculture was the original occupation of man, and we declare that whoever pursues this work in the golden age of the twentieth century has not advanced with the other classes of humanity.

Therefore, it is the duty of the farmer to furnish us with his produce without a fair profit or compensation, so that ourselves and posterity may live in royal style.

As Canadian reciprocity is the remedy for our distressing situation, we heartily support this bill. And with a firm reliance on the protection of political schemes, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our ill-gotten fortunes and our unsaved honor.

The Centre Hall Lecture Course Committee met on Monday afternoon and settled its accounts for the year. The balance in the treasury is $15.57.

Military Opening, April 11th and 12th.

The ladies throughout Penna. and Nittany Valleys will be interested in this item because it announces the spring opening at the millinery store of Mrs. Lucy Henney, in Centre Hall, which will take place Tuesday and Wednesday, April 11th and 12th. Mrs. Henney has been in Philadelphia since Thursday of last week and is making her selections of goods from the largest and most fashionable stores.

Mrs. Henney has been in the millinery business for so long a time that she is thoroughly acquainted with the business and the needs of her large number of customers. Her selections this year will embrace all the latest fashions in head gear, and these are exceptionally pretty and becoming to the youthful and the more aged. The children and girls in their first teens will also be provided for, for there are many frames and hats exceptionally becoming to the pretty faces of these youngsters.

While everything else has advanced in price, Mrs. Henney will continue to sell millinery goods at the former low margins over cost, and this means much to the customers.

The spring meeting of the Presbytery of Huntingdon will be held in the New Presbyterian church at Lewisburg, Pa., on Monday, April 10th, and continue in session during the next day. This body consists of 88 churches, scattered over seven counties of Central Pennsylvania, 64 ministers, 336 elders, 13,416 church members, 11,609 Sunday-school members. For the year ending March 31, 1910, it raised for various benevolences $39,128 and $122,190 for church support. The commissioners from the Slings Creek or Centre Hall charge are the pastor, Rev. W. Henry Schuyler, and Elder G. L. Goodhart.

About an inch of rain fell on Sunday evening and during the night, which relieved the earth from frost-freshened up the wheat plants, and put a green tinge on the lawns. Monday afternoon an electrical storm passed over the valley, accompanied by rain and a half inch of hail. During Monday night it grew cold, and Tuesday morning the ground was frozen and covered lightly with snow. Tuesday it was very stormy, and there were frequent snow storms.

John W. Sicklesmith, Greensboro, Pa., has three children, and like most children they frequently take cold. "We have tried several kinds of cough medicine," he says, "but have never found any yet that did them as much good as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by all dealers."

LETTERS FROM SUBSCRIBERS.

Reporter Subscribers' Correspondent Column—New Department.

In a letter from J. Newton Erhard, of Inavale, Nebraska, a few figures are given that will be of interest to those of the Reporter readers who are stock feeders. Mr. Erhard is a son of the late William Erhard, of Potter township, and a brother of George Erhard, of Old Fort. His letter follows, and bears the date of March 24:

Inclosed find money order which should have been forwarded earlier, but I have been exceedingly busy. When one man husks one hundred acres of corn, feeds two cars of cattle and hogs, and does his own cooking, he can realize what the word busy means.

I marketed thirty hifers, coming two years old, weighing 855 pounds each, some selling at $5.65 per hundred weight. Three cows, weighing over eleven hundred, sold for $5.00 per cwt.; a bull weighing 1390 lbs. for $5.15 per cwt. Also thirty-one hogs, the lot weighing 5250 lbs., for $6.75 per cwt. The cattle and hogs sold for $2285.88. The expenses on these are as follows:

Amount of sales..... $2285.88
Freight to Kansas City..... $ 60.51
Grading..... 10.60
One bus. corn, worth in market..... 50
Inspection..... 15
Commission..... 25.00
Total expenses..... $97.16
Net receipts from lot..... $2188.72

These cattle and hogs were fed one hundred and fifty days, and consumed the following feeds:

Twenty tons of alfalfa hay at $25.00 per ton..... $500.00
500 lbs. of oil meal..... 15.00
1700 bus. corn, worth in market..... 645.00
Cost of cattle and hogs..... 1059.91
Shipping and expenses..... 97.16
Total expenses..... $1191.16

By a bit of figuring you can see what I got for my corn. Prices are not nearly as good as a year ago. Cattle are fifty cents and hogs almost $4.00 per cwt. lower than on March 17, 1910. Corn was then worth sixty cents and alfalfa hay $9.00 per ton. This has been a fine winter for feeding. Wheat is looking fine.

Yours,
J. N. ERHARD.

LOCALS.

Mrs. Lucy Henney went to Philadelphia last week on business.

The law permitting the use of bear traps has been repealed. That is a good move.

The Williamsport Commercial College announces its opening of the spring term on April 17th.

J. G. Heberling, of State College, just recovered from an illness of some duration. He was for many years a resident of Pine Grove Mills, and is a civil war veteran.

During the first few days of Spring the thermometer was busy in the vicinity of the zero mark. One night it marked a point just eleven degrees on the summer side.

Considerable concrete work will be done in Centre Hall during the coming summer. A number of farmers will also make permanent improvements by the use of concrete.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Moore, of Philadelphia, are expected in Centre Hall this week, and will occupy the Murray home purchased some months ago by them. Mr. Moore expects to improve the property to a considerable extent.

H. E. Frankenberger is having a large manure shed erected at his barn on the Weaver farm, east of Centre Hall. The work is being done by H. E. Shreckengost, of Farmers Mills, who also expects to do work on the Arthur Grove farm.

Harry M. Black, the Lewisburg postoffice clerk, who got away with $200 taken from letters, pleaded guilty in the U. S. District Court, at Scranton. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $300, undergo imprisonment for four months, and make restitution for the money stolen.

James B. Spangler and W. R. Neff, of Tusseyville; Newton Yarnell, of Linden Hall; H. E. Mosser, of Centre Hall; John E. Rishel and John H. Bunkle, of Centre Hall, were callers during the past week, but all too busy to prolong their visits after the business that brought them here had been transacted.

Henry E. Homan and family moved from their farm, east of Centre Hall, to State College, where Mr. Homan purchased a property some months ago. Mr. Homan bought the George Durst farm, and in the spring of 1901 moved out it and has since lived there. He will be succeeded on the farm by his son, John Homan, who purchased the farm stock and implements.

Miss Margaret Goodhart, Mrs. Leroy Reardon and Mrs. G. O. Benner represented the missionary and C. E. societies of the Presbyterian church at the annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbytery in Huntingdon, in Tyrone, Wednesday and Thursday of last week. They report the meeting to be of unusual interest, were entertained at Samuel Barr's and made a visit to Altoona before returning home Saturday afternoon.

There was a rather stormy session of court in Union county when liquor licenses were granted. Judge McClure refused to issue a license to W. F. Holsheue, at Vicksburg, and W. G. Hartwick, at New Berlin, because remonstrances were presented, and they were also charged with violations of the liquor laws. The associate judges overruled Judge McClure in these two cases. On the strength of the charges in the remonstrances, Judge McClure ordered the district attorney to hold Holsheue under $1000 bail for his appearance at court. This action of the little judge is another good reason for the abolishment of these ornaments on the bench.

Mrs. Annie Spangler, aged thirty-seven years, nine months, and two days, wife of John Spangler, died at her home at Tusseyville, Thursday morning of last week, after an illness of many weeks of catarrh of the stomach. Deceased was the daughter of Henry Stoner, of Centre Hall.

Mifflin County Industry Barred.

The large ax manufacturing plant of the James H. Mann estate, at Yegertown, near Lewisburg, was totally destroyed Friday by fire, which started in the tempering department. The large buildings were frame and were soon in ruins. The loss, estimated at $175,000, is partly covered by insurance. The capacity was 2400 axes per day, and 110 men were employed running full time. The plant will be rebuilt at once.

Any day in April or May should be the farmer's arbor day. Plant trees, Mr. Farmer, for every tree you plant makes your farm worth more money and the homestead more saleable.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS.

The Bush House rates have again been reduced to $2.00 per day, which is simply going back to the old rates on which it built up its large trade.

J. D. Gingery and J. Q. Miles were callers in Centre Hall on business of a political nature, Saturday morning. From here they went to the Herman sale, at Lemont.

Mrs. Coldron is contemplating the erection of an addition to her dwelling house, in Centre Hall, within the next year. Part of the lumber is now on the ground.

Thursday of last week, the neighbors of Mrs. Jacob Sharrer assembled at her home and spent the day in quilting. At noon the party, thirty-seven in number, sat down to an elegant dinner, which had been prepared for the occasion.

Mrs. Susan Schnars, of Clearfield, who spent the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Strunk, in Centre Hall, is at the home of her nephew, William Grossman, south of Earlstown. Mrs. Jacob Showers, of Youngdale, was also a guest there recently.

While painting the grandstand at Pennsylvania State College, David Fulton fell a distance of twenty-five feet, breaking and splintering the bone in his leg. The injury is of such a character that amputation may be necessary. He was taken to the Bellefonte hospital.

W. M. Grove, of Spring Mills, who last year spent considerable time in surveying state lands for the Forestry Department, on Monday went to Penfield, Clearfield county, where work of the same class is being resumed. He took with him Orris McCormick, who will do chaining, and later on will be allowed to do work with the compass.

The experiment station of the Pennsylvania State College has issued a comprehensive bulletin on the apple in Pennsylvania, compiled by Prof. John P. Stewart. The bulletin covers twenty pages and treats of the varieties, planting and general care of orchards. The investigations cover a period of three years in nine counties of the state.

William Sweeney, of Centre Hill, who had contemplated moving to the Pittsburgh district this spring and engage in farming on one of the coal company's farms, has secured employment with Peter Smith, at Centre Hill, on a farm. He will move from the Strohm farm to the house vacated by Bruce Ripka. And, by the way, an additional heir made its appearance in the Sweeney home within the past two weeks.

Last week mention was made of the freezing to death of a boy, nine years old, while sitting on a wagon which had been broken down. Mrs. M. J. F. Van Borkirk, the mother of the child, insists that the child was doped with whiskey and was poisoned, and she asked District Attorney Houser, of Mifflin county, to have the father arrested for the murder. At the funeral the feeling among the factions ran high. Van Borkirk and some of his friends were ordered from the house.

Very few of the younger Reporter readers ever saw an ox team in service, but those living in this locality will have an opportunity of seeing a team of young bulls perform farm work if they take the trouble to go to the Marshall farms (formerly the Gregg farms,) west of Centre Hall. When Mr. Marshall moved from near Unionville to his new possessions, to one of the wagons loaded with household goods was hitched this team of bulls, and attracted considerable attention along the route. These beasts performed much work, such as harrowing, raking hay, etc., last season, and will again be pressed into service wherever they can be made useful. Mr. Marshall has several good teams of horses, and the bulls will simply be used to assist the horse power when the rush season on the farm is on.

CIVIC CONSCIOUSNESS.

A New York lecturer in a recent address undertook to demonstrate that some of the practices of immigrants in this country, which are troublesome to the authorities, have their origin in the best intentions and may be easily corrected when the requirements of the American environment are made clear to the new arrivals. To illustrate his point he told an interesting story. A certain immigrant mother of numerous offspring was several times haled to court and fined for hurling her ashes into the city street on which she lived, says the Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin. With philosophic submission to arbitrary governmental tyranny she paid her fines and went her way. Finally, a charitable person, explained to her, in her own tongue why she should not throw her ashes into the street. It then appeared that in the little Polish village whence she came she and her neighbors had been requested by a local authority to throw their ashes into the road by way of impromptu street building. Then he related a contrasting anecdote as follows: "I once heard one of the founders of the City Club say that when he came of age he asked his excellent father to give him some idea of what might be his duties as a full-fledged citizen of this great city. His father replied: 'My son, as a gentleman and the son of a gentleman, all you need know of municipal procedure is that in order to have your ashes properly cared for you must bribe the ashman.'"

Who says the United States is not enlightening the world? The manufacture of what is called American style furniture has become an important industry in Spain, where the people have a great liking for the product. This country was the pioneer in turning out attractive furniture at moderate prices, as it has been the leader in many other innovations that have contributed to domestic comfort and enjoyment, and the others are catching on. It is reaching the point where that sincere flattery which takes the form of imitation in becoming more and more pronounced. American ideas are being adopted everywhere.

The biggest submarine yet built is the Seal, which was launched at Newport News, Va., the other day. She is classed as a "cruiser" and is 131 feet long. The Seal, it is expected, will be capable of making long trips under water and is so well equipped that she will not be conveyed by a fighting craft on the surface, as is now usually the case. The submarine "cruiser" will be a unique addition to the American navy. When the proposed aeroplanes are constructed for the same branch of national defense it would seem that our navy would lack nothing for service on, under or over the water.

Telephone "rubbing" will be discouraged in New Hampshire should a bill pending in the legislature become a law. This measure provides a penalty of $10 for each offense when a person breaks in on a telephone conversation. It is aimed especially at the "listeners" on party wires, whose curiosity leads them into attempting to hear talk not intended for their ears. The practice is not confined to New Hampshire, but it will be interesting to observe the degree of success attained in the Granite State in dealing with the offense.

A New Yorker has bought for $3,600 a prize shorthorn cow in Canada and has brought the animal home in a special car and in charge of two veterinary surgeons. It is evident that there is money somewhere in the milk and butter business when properly conducted.

Every typewriting machine has an individuality, says an expert. We have noticed that some of them are wretched spellers.

In three months last year 321 persons were killed in railroad accidents. And then we shudder at the toll of the aeroplanes!

A New Jersey judge says dental work is not a luxury. He was referring, no doubt, to the way a victim feels in a dentist's chair.

Professor Goode wants the coal supply conserved. The landlord of your flat building will subscribe to that doctrine.

Some day stealing a hot stove may be regarded as tame and unexciting beside stealing the family chunk of radium.

However, we fear that the "Kiss Not" campaign will not gain a whole lot of popularity among our younger element.

WOMEN CARRY THIS ELECTION

Day of Triumph for Them in Tarrytown, N. Y.—Not One Ballot Was Void.

Tarrytown, N. Y.—Tarrytown will have $70,000 to enlarge its water supply and lay new mains for fire protection and Washington Engine Company will have a new $5,500 automobile combination fire apparatus, thanks to the women voters Tuesday. It was a day of triumph for the fair voters. They came, they voted, and they won. Never before in the history of the village have women taken such an active part in a campaign as the one which just closed, and they were only enlisted in the fight six days.

On March 15 the Women's Civic League held a meeting. The next day women were being buttonholed on the streets by enthusiastic workers. Nearly every woman in Tarrytown was "seen" and a notice was published in the local press calling on the women to go out on election day and do their duty. The women heeded the call and out of 800 votes cast the women cast more than a third of the vote.

The Women's Civic League is not a suffrage organization. Some members favor suffrage, while others oppose it. They stand for the betterment of the village and if it is necessary to use the ballot to accomplish this cause, they will embrace that opportunity and make the best of it.

Miss Helen Gould, although not able to be present to vote, was deeply interested in the election and every man on her place went to the polls and with them went his wife in case she owned property. The Third district, in which she resides, gave the proposition the largest majority in proportion to the vote cast and much of the credit is given to her. It was the most interesting election ever held. The village ticket, on which the men were running, was lost sight of. In each polling place the ballot clerks were Lord Chesterfields and the men were bowing and scraping and ever ready to lend assistance. The women took their ballot and in most every case declined assistance, saying that they knew how to vote. The result proved it, for there was not one void ballot.

In North Tarrytown the Rockefeller ticket, headed by John Wirth, won out. Mr. Wirth received 265 majority, but some of the trustees just squeezed through. The proposition to appropriate $2,500 for an automobile fire engine for Rockefeller's hose company carried.

HOW HE STARTED THE CANAL

Roosevelt Says he Took the Canal and Let Congress Debate.

Berkeley, Cal.—Speaking at the annual Charter Day exercises in the Greek Theater at the University of California, Theodore Roosevelt made a plea for higher education and told how he started the Panama Canal.

"I am interested in the Panama Canal," he said, "because I started it. If I had followed traditional, conservative methods, I would have submitted a dignified state paper of probably 200 pages to Congress and the debate on it would have been going on yet; but I took the Canal Zone and let Congress debate; and while the debate goes on, the Canal does also."

IMMUNITY BATH WORN OUT

Federal Judge Decides Packers Must Stand Trial.

Chicago. — United States Judge Carpenter, in a decision on demurrers to the indictments charging 10 Chicago packers with conspiracy in connection with the formation of the alleged Beef Trust, ruled that the "immunity bath" administered to the packers in 1905 is not in force, and the packers will have to stand trial on the present criminal indictments.

The demurrers were based upon the contention of the plea that they furnished the evidence upon which the present case was founded, and that the immunity granted to them then is still in force.

PENSIONS FOR TEACHERS

Connecticut Educators Urge Adopting of System.

Hartford, Conn.—Leading educators of Connecticut spoke before the committee on education of the general assembly in support of the measure to grant pensions to the public school teachers of the state.

If the measure is enacted into law all the teachers in the public schools and normal colleges of the state will be eligible to retire on a pension after 30 years' employment, the amount of the pension to be in proportion to the salary received at the time of retirement.

Wireless Goes Underground.

Berlin. — Two German scientists, Drs. Leibach and Loewy, have successfully applied wireless telegraphy for underground communication. Messages have been sent between the Polish mines in the North Harz Mountains, a distance of nearly a mile and a half, at a level of 1,600 feet below the surface. The messages were so clearly delivered that the scientists conclude much greater distances are feasible. The discovery is regarded as highly important in case of mine disasters.

CABLE IN SHADOW OF OUR FLAG

Line From Yokohama to Guam Discovered.

TAFT MAY ORDER WIRE SIEZED

End of Strange Cable Found Wrapped Around Regular Cable—Discoverers Astounded Upon Learning They Could Talk With Japanese War Office.

Washington, D. C.—Students of the American-Japanese situation say that it was an interesting coincidence that President Taft should have sent for Baron Uchida, the Japanese Ambassador, for a "peace talk" almost simultaneously with the announcement made at San Francisco of the discovery that Japan had control of a cable from Guam to Yokohama. This report, which was said to have been made by John Buckley, deck engineer on the army transport Crook, was generally ridiculed in official circles as too silly and preposterous for serious consideration. However, it develops that what Buckley disclosed was absolutely true and that the facts were supposed to have been known in Washington only by President Taft and Secretary of War Dickinson.

It is stated on the authority of a high Government official that the report of this discovery was made to Secretary Dickinson personally by the captain of the cable ship which made the discovery while the Secretary was in the Philippines. The cable, however, had been laid to the island of Guam and not to the Philippine Islands, as reported from San Francisco.

Last fall it was found that the Pacific cable was defective, and the cable ship was sent out to investigate. At Guam a loose end of a strange cable was found wrapped around the regular cable. The officials of the repair party were perplexed by the discovery and were astounded when they began efforts at communication that they could talk directly into the Japanese War Office.

It was thought that the discoverer was known by Japan, so close watch was put over the end at Guam, which has since been maintained, the idea being to seize the cable in case of necessity. So far as can be learned, this has not yet been done. Interesting developments may now be expected between the United States and Japan, since the discovery has become known. It is not conceived how Japan will be able to explain the existence of a cable from Yokohama direct to the shadow of the American flag on the island of Guam.

The discovery of this cable indicates clearly to the army authorities that Japan has no intention of wasting any time or power with the Philippine Islands in case of war with the United States.

It can be said that it was on this principle that the Joint Army and Navy Board two years ago decided to create the main Pacific naval and military base at Pearl Harbor, near Honolulu.

Iowa Defeats Suffrage.

Des Moines, Ia.—The Iowa Senate defeated the resolution for woman suffrage. The vote was 27 to 21.

44 Killed in 9-Hour Battle.

Agua Prieta, Mexico.—A nine-hour battle at La Colorado, south of Hermosillo, resulted in the deaths of 36 rebels and eight Federals, according to an official report received here. Therebels had possession of the town, but after hard fighting were driven out.

$40,000 Fire in Silver Plant.

Taunton, Mass.—A loss of $40,000 was caused by fire which almost destroyed the Colanet Silver Plant.

FOUR AMERICANS ARE SHOT

Execution Ordered By Mexican Drum-head Court-Martial—State Department to Probe.

San Antonio, Tex.—John Hamilton Dignowity, well known here as "Ham" Dignowity, and three other Americans have been shot to death under order of a Mexican court-martial for participation in the insurrection, according to a dispatch received by members of the Dignowity family.

The news was brought by Fred Dignowity, a cousin of the executed man, but he had no particulars aside from the allegation that the execution was the order of a "drum-head" court-martial.

"Ham" Dignowity was 30 years old and was engaged in the cattle and mining business in the State of Chihuahua.

H. M. Burns, a mining man with interests in Northern Mexico, declared that the closing of the mines had thrown many Americans out of work and that more than 150 having no other way of living were now with the insurgents.

In addition, Burns said, there were probably 50 American adventurers with the insurgents, but the majority were mining men out of work.

Washington to Investigate.

Washington, D. C.—Reports that four Americans had been shot under order of a Mexican court-martial will be given immediate investigation by the State Department, which has established a quick line of communication to the American Embassy at Mexico City.

So far the press has been quicker on the trigger than the official advice which the State Department receives.

The death of O'Driscoll, an American reported shot by insurgents, has been confirmed officially. It is not given out what action the Department will take in this or other cases.

SIEZED EGGS FATAL TO PIGS

Were Intended By Concern For Human Food.

Trenton, N. J.—The suit of the government against the H. J. Keith Company, of Boston, was opened here Wednesday. The action follows the seizure of eggs in a refrigerating plant in Jersey and their condemnation by the government as decomposed and unfit for food.

Judge Cross heard Dr. Rosenberger testify that he injected solutions into pigs and rabbits, and in all cases the animals lost weight immediately, refused food and, in many cases, died within 24 hours. Mice thus treated, he said, died at once.

Fliers With 13 Passengers.

Mouzon, France.—Roger Sommer, the French biplanist, Friday broke Louis Breguet's "aerobus" record, which he made at Douai Thursday in taking up 12 passengers. Sommer carried 13 persons, weighing in the aggregate 1,430½ pounds. He flew, however, only two-thirds of a mile, whereas Breguet, who used a monoplane, went two miles. The weight of Breguet's passengers was 1,315 pounds.

Nine Killed in Mine.

Canonsburg, Pa.—Nine men were killed by a fall of slate in the Hazel mine of the Pittsburg and Buffalo Coal Company, at East Canonsburg. Eight of the dead miners are foreigners. One American, David Donley, was killed.

To Tax Unmarried Women.

Madison, Wis.—A bill to tax $5 annually every unmarried woman over 25 years old and to create a "matrimonial commission" consisting of the governor, superintendent of public property and chief clerk of the Assembly, was introduced in the Assembly by Assemblyman Hansen, of Manitowish, of "trouserette" fame. The matrimonial commission is charged with the duty of bringing together kindred souls when application is made for an affinity by any lovelorn maiden.

CABINET RESIGNS TO HASTEN PEACE

Disagree With Mexican President Regarding Insurrectos

LIMANTOUR ALONE TO REMAIN

Resignations Do Not Include That of Ramon Corral as Vice-President—Rebels Demand the Retirement of Diaz.

Crisis in Mexico.

The Diaz Cabinet resigned in a body.

The reason given for the action is the belief that it will contribute to the re-establishment of peace and facilitate the reforms which are in contemplation.

Not one of the Ministers is less than 65 years of age, and their age is said to serve as an excuse for their retirement.

Jose Yves Limantour, Minister of Finance, is said to be the only Cabinet member who will remain.

Popular feeling against the Cabinet has been growing steadily since long before the beginning of the revolution.

One of the demands of the Insurrectos is that President Diaz shall agree to declare null his election of 1910 and submit to a new election under the terms for a free ballot allowed by the Constitution of 1851.

Mexico City.—The Diaz Cabinet resigned in a body at a special meeting of that board Friday.

The reason given for the action in an official announcement is the belief that it will contribute to the re-establishment of peace and facilitate the reforms which are in contemplation.

Enrique C. Creel, minister of foreign relations, presented the resignations in behalf of all of the ministers. General Diaz thanked the retiring members for their efficient and patriotic co-operation in the past and announced that he would postpone his acceptance or rejection until later.

The resignations included that of Ramon Corral as minister of the Department of Gobernacion, corresponding to the Department of the Interior in the United States, but not as vice-president.

Not one of the men who formed President Diaz's Cabinet is less than 65 years of age, and a number of them are much older. With the exception of Enrique C. Creel, minister of foreign affairs, all have been members of the President's official family for a great many years. This fact alone has been one of the grievances of the revolutionists, who have insisted that the chief executive should surround himself with representatives of the younger generation—men more closely in touch with the affairs of the people.

Following are those whose resignations were received:

Enrique C. Creel, minister of foreign affairs.

Ramon Corral, minister of Interior.

Jose Yves Limantour, minister of finance.

Olegario Molina, minister of fomento.

Justo Sierra, minister of education.

Manuel Gonzalez Cosio, minister of war and marine.

Leandro Fernandez, minister of public works and communications.

Justino Fernandez, minister of justice.

Without exception all these men have contributed valuable services to their country and to the President, but the popular feeling against them has been growing steadily since long before the beginning of the revolution.

DIES AT AGE OF 110

Missouri's Oldest Man Leaves Wife Aged 100.

Sedalia, Mo.—Daniel Bartlett, said to have been Missouri's oldest man, died here from pneumonia. He was born at Booneville, Mo., in 1801. For many years he had been in perfect health, working as a laborer much of the time.

In an interview a few days ago he attributed his remarkable physical condition to simple living. He was not a total abstainer, but was temperate in all things.

His wife, whom he married in 1827, is 106 years old.

Over 30 Killed in Strike.

Lexington, Ky.—That more than 30 men were killed and many of them buried beside the railroad tracks is the report received here from a prominent citizen of Somerset, the centre of the strike district, on the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific railroad, between here and Chattanooga. It was stated that very few of the homicides become known to the press, and as most of the men killed are negroes, they are buried on the right of way of the railroad wherever they are killed.

ONLY WORK COUNTS

WOMAN IN BUSINESS SHOULD NOT BE SENSITIVE.

She is Not Paid Because She is Pretty or Stylish, but Because She is Useful to the Business.

The woman who finds herself facing the problem of earning a living should immediately proceed to get rid of her sensitive feelings, if she has any. She would do well to try to sink her personality during business hours and keep saying to herself that only her work counts, that she is not paid because she is pretty or stylish, but just because she is useful to the business which pays her wages. When she falls in that her good looks will not save her. A capable girl with, perhaps, neither beauty nor style, will succeed her.

The employers who are hiring girls for their charms are few, and the girls who have to work are many. Feminine workers are striving to secure the wages of men, which can only be done by doing men's work. Now men do not expect praise and it does not turn their head when it is given. As a rule they do not accept reproach as a personal injury.

The just employer gives both praise and blame. When he pays promptly he expects good work every day and not according to the feelings of his workers. When there is a valid reason for leniency—like illness, for instance—he is kind, but for striking he has no mercy. A man who employs more than fifty women told me he had no trouble with them because he treated them exactly as he would treat men. His creed was that much work for so much money and he reasoned that no woman had a right to accept a position she could not fill. I think that was fully understood by his office, for he was in the habit of going away and returning without warning, and he seemed satisfied with the result.

Women are not yet accustomed to being treated with the lack of courtesy which makes the atmosphere of a business place. A man whose brain is turning over important plans cannot give particular attention to the tone in which he addresses an employee. It may be brusque without his knowing it or intending any unkindness. A man would pay no attention to tone as long as words were decent, but to a woman's sensitive ear the tone is every thing. It seriously affects her work, so business men claim, and it is the necessity for avoiding trouble that turns them in favor of male workers. I saw a badly ironed sheet taken back to the kitchen recently by a woman who is never anything but kind to her employees. "When you find clean clothes that look like this, Mary, do not bring them to me; do them over." The girl burst into tears with the remark that nobody had ever found fault with her laundry till then. It required some reasoning to bring her to a proper frame of mind, and the woman decided to replace her by one less sensitive at the earliest opportunity. It came last week—Betty Braden in The Buffalo Enquirer.

No More "Ticket-of-Leave" Men.

The old ticket-of-leave system—the staple of many an honest melodrama after Charles Peace—has at last gone altogether. Henceforth the discharged convict really anxious to make a clean start will not be brought into direct contact with the police. Up to now the convict has been supervised by the police on the one hand and cared for by various philanthropic societies on the other, and there has been no co-operation between the police and the societies. The new scheme is to combine into a central body the societies which have hitherto aided discharged prisoners and to give this body authority to deal with the convicts and funds to carry on the work. This body will be responsible for the convicts whose interests it serves, and the police will have no more dealings with discharged prisoners so long as they keep from further crime.—From the London Saturday Review.

Experience to Remember.

A woman and her four-year-old child were rescued early the other morning on a Welsh mountain after a terrible ordeal. They visited some relatives and started back across the Deri mountain. The woman, however, took the wrong road, and as night fell found she was lost. In the darkness, both she and the child fell into a brook. They managed to extricate themselves, but as they ran to and fro, wet through and bitterly cold, the child left its mother's side. The woman wandered about screaming for help, until a workman heard her. Search parties were at once sent out, and the child was discovered in a plantation, almost dead from exposure, with a bad wound in the head caused by falling over a rock. It had been without food, on the frozen mountain side, for sixteen hours.

Work Wins Reward of Merit.

It is interesting to know that Mrs. Arthur Nevin took up the study of bacteriology in the first place simply as a hobby, and the fact that she has been appointed bacteriologist of the Pasteur Institute shows how well she did her work even as an amateur only. She is the wife of the composer Arthur Nevin, and makes a specialty of diseases of the throat and lungs. She will now have M. D. after her name.

DISFIGURED WITH ECZEMA

"Our little boy Gilbert was troubled with eczema when but a few weeks old. His little face was covered with sores even to back of his ears. The poor little fellow suffered very much. The sores began as pimples, his little face was disfigured very much. We hardly knew what he looked like. The face looked like raw meat. We tied little bags of cloth over his hands to prevent him from scratching. He was very restless at night, his little face itched."

"We consulted two doctors at Chicago, where we resided at that time. After trying all the medicine of the two doctors without any result, we read of the Cuticura Remedies, and at once bought the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Following the directions carefully and promptly we saw the result, and after four weeks the dear child's face was as fine and clean as any little baby's face. Every one who saw Gilbert after using the Cuticura Remedies was surprised. He has a head of hair which is a pride for any boy of his age, three years. We can only recommend the Cuticura Remedies to everybody." (Signed) Mrs. H. Albrecht, Box 883, West Point, Neb., Oct. 26, 1910.

A Young Mans Record

By JEANNE OLIVE LOIZEAUX

When a young man has been in love for a year, when he has been blushing to "ask papa," when he has asked for an interview that he may do that same, when he has no reason to believe that "papa" favors him, when the moment for that interview is at hand—well! That young man would rather charge up San Juan hill five times than knock at the library door and face the within. But for the girl bracing him he might leave the house bareheaded.

Harrison Forrest, twenty-three years old, late of Harvard, athletic, baseball, swimming, some thoughts of law, good family, good fellow and intending to settle down and leave wild oats behind him—that is the young man!

Miss Prue Wilson, twenty, daughter of Banker Wilson, very much in love, afraid of her dignified father, not a bit afraid of her mother, hoping dad will consent, but afraid he won't, in which case it is suicide, cheeks scarlet, heart going pit-a-pat—that is the young woman!

It is the crisis of two lives and no earthquake can postpone it.

Mr. Forrest knocks at the library door. Mr. Wilson bids him enter and he is lost to the view of the girl in the hall. According to precedent she should rush back to the parlor and sit down and shiver and tremble and recall her "Now I lay me down to sleep," but—she does nothing of the sort.

Like a nice, sweet girl she advances to the library door and kneels down and applies her eyes to the keyhole to see and hear what is going on in that fateful room.

"Mr. Wilson," begins the young man as soon as his head stops swimming. "I have asked for this interview to tell you that—"

"You needn't tell me," interrupts the banker, as he holds up a finger. "I have it all here!"

And Mr. Wilson takes a manuscript from a drawer and says:

"I have known for a long time what brought you to this house and have made something of an investigation, so as to be ready for you. It is by no means complete, but I will read what I have:

"Played football and was an oarsman in college. Was never perfect in a lesson. Had the reputation of being a slugger."

"Came near being expelled on several occasions for pranks. Said pranks consisted in damaging property and slugging policemen, with tearing down lampposts as a side issue."

"Cleaned out one table d'hôte and two saloons in New York and was stabbed in the arm."

"Ran away with a professor's auto and damaged it. Paid the damage, but guyed the professor."

"Raided a row on a New Haven train."

"Was the principal feature in an amateur boxing contest. Left his man insensible."

"Saved a man in Boston from drowning, but slugged two policemen 15 minutes later."

"Family well to do and respectable."

"Young man may turn to law, or he may turn to the prize ring."

"Said to date on his mother, but was fined $25 for rooting up a sidewalk at Fall River."

Mr. Wilson read that far and then laid the report aside, and looked at the young man for a long minute before saying:

"And now you may go on with what you came in here to say."

"That—that report is true, sir," was the reply in a trembling voice, "but please don't believe me vicious. It was what they call exuberance of spirits. When you were a young man—"

"I was not troubled that way, Mr. Forrest!"

"But—but—"

"When do you enter the roped arena to meet all comers?"

"But I'm no slugger. All these things just happened so. I have put them all behind me."

"Until you meet the next policeman! Mr. Forrest, you came to ask my consent to wed my daughter. I cannot give it."

"But if I change—if I have changed—if I do not slug any more—if I am no longer troubled with exuberance of spirits—?"

"Please consider this interview at an end, Mr. Forrest. I hope for your mother's sake you will change."

"And he gave his consent!" whispered Miss Prue, who was waiting in the hall for her lover to reappear.

"No, and he never will! He thinks I'm a slugger and a loafer."

"How dare he! How dare he!"

"Oh, he dared, all right. He didn't seem a bit embarrassed over it. He same as called me a prize fighter."

"And you so gentle that you wouldn't hurt a fly! Well, we won't elope, and we won't commit suicide. You just wait. That father of mine is going to get a talking to."

The father got it, but it did not change the situation, except he hoped that Mr. Forrest, for the sake of his parents, would give up slugging and take to the law and become a credit to the bench and bar. If he did this, and after five or ten or fifteen years, proved that he had recovered from his exuberance of spirits, why he might come around and talk.

Miss Prue was not found dead at the end of a rope in the garret next morning. They don't do that way nowadays. They write a little note and smuggle it out of the house and then have a feeling that their angel grandmother is looking down from heaven and will somehow bring things around all right. In this instance, Miss Prue's angel grandmother was on the spot and saw her way clear.

Mr. Forrest did not call again. He did not propose an elopement nor plan the death of the banker. If he was a slugger he was an honorable one. Besides, he also had a grandmother up there. She was a hustler and schemer when alive, and he believed he could depend upon her now.

Mr. Wilson was interested in a marble quarry, and occasionally drove out there to see how things were going. There had been a cut-down in the wages of the men. Too much money was being sent back to Italy. Two weeks after breaking Mr. Forrest in two he started to visit the quarry and settle the trouble if he could, and Miss Prue accompanied him. At about the same time the despairing lover started out from somewhere in his auto for a spin. His route passed the quarry.

The banker arrived to find seven or eight hands hanging around and grumbling, while a dozen more had packed up and departed. A strike had been declared. He stood up in his auto and orated. He showed that a cut in wages always made the wage-earner more economical, and was therefore a good thing, and he was going on to prove several other things when the men made a dash for him and hauled him out of the machine. They had just begun to pound him up right smart when another auto arrived on the scene, and he had a dim remembrance of hearing his daughter cry out:

"Oh, it's Harry—my Harry! Oh, Harry, they are killing dad!"

This was the situation that the two angel grandmothers brought about. Couldn't be better. Mr. Harrison Forrest was out of his machine and slugging away, one, two, three, inside of ten seconds. The enemy went down. The enemy clutched and slashed at him. The enemy was punched until it fled. And Mr. Wilson sat up in the road and saw it all, and heard Miss Prue's words of commendation and exultation. And when the enemy had been lambasted the banker arose and extended his hand to the young man and quietly observed:

"I thought you were to quit slugging!"

"But this was a special occasion, you see!"

"Oh, I understand. Well, you might call this evening and make it another special occasion, and I shall expect you to take up law the very first thing in the morning."

And Miss Prue reached out and patted her father on the shoulder. "You are the best ever," she said.

Chinese Wedding Festivities.

Dr. W. W. Yen, secretary to the Wal-wu-pu and head of the bureau of publicity of the foreign office of China, was married yesterday to Miss Sun, sister of H. E. Sun Pao Chi, the governor of Shantung.

The festival ceremonies on the whole were of a very quiet character, and went on for three days at the residence of the doctor.

The house was covered with a large decorative stand mat tent and was filled with many felicitous silken scrolls and numerous presents. At the entrance were placed several dozens of carrying boards in red, covered with big Chinese characters, showing the respect paid and homage presented to the young couple by the governor of Shantung, by presidents of the boards, by ministers abroad and last but not least by the colleagues of Doctor Yen at the Wal-wu-pu.—Pekin and Tientsin Times.

Misunderstood Orders.

"Why did Jagsby whip his little boy?"

"Because the child obeyed him literally."

"That is strange."

"Not when you know it. Just when Jagsby was trying to get over the night before the boy came around with a new toy drum, and Jagsby told him to beat it."

SOME NICE DESSERTS

QUICKLY MADE AND DO NOT TAKE EXPENSIVE MATERIAL

Usual Puddings May Be Varied by Fresh Fruits Cut Up With Sugar and Served With Cake.

Dainty desserts that are quickly made and do not take too many expensive materials to make them with are always in demand for the home table. The usual puddings may be varied by the fresh fruits cut up with sugar and served with cake, or the different fruit fritters with wine sauce, frozen creams and molded jellies, custards of all kinds and the large and widely assorted pie family. There are always some untried recipes, however, that are good to add to the handy book's store, and a fair exchange is no robbery. Housewives who are rather proud of their culinary prowess are always glad to pass tried recipes on in return for those that are new to them.

French Pancakes.—Beat two eggs thoroughly, cream and add two ounces of butter, two ounces of sugar and two ounces of flour, mix the ingredients well and add half a pint of fresh milk. Beat the mixture until light, pour onto well-buttered plates and bake for 20 minutes in a good oven. As they are ready to serve pile on a plate, spreading a layer of marmalade between each cake, and sprinkle with powdered sugar. Garnish with thin slices of lemon and serve in a napkin.

Ginger Apples.—Wash and bruise one and a half ounces of ginger root, put it into a small jar and cover it with a quarter of a pint of good whisky; let it stand three days. Add to it the juice of two big lemons and two pounds of sugar; pare, core, and slice into it three pounds of apples, and simmer all together until the apples are transparent but not broken. Remove the apples and strain the juice over them. Serve with cake and garnish with candied lemon peel.

Victoria Sandwiches.—Beat to a cream four eggs and their weight in sugar, butter and flour; add the well-beaten whites of the eggs, butter a shallow baking pan and pour in the batter. Bake in a moderate oven for 20 minutes. Let cool, then spread one-half over it, and cut into small sandwiches. Pile on a plate and serve with a rich custard.

JEANNETTE NORTON.

Boiled Raisin Cake.

Cover one and one-half cups raisins with boiling water and let them simmer twenty minutes. Cream three-fourths cup of sugar with one-fourth cup butter; add one and one-half cups flour, one-half cups of the raisins, water and one egg beaten light, but not separated. One teaspoon soda should be sifted with the flour. Season with one teaspoon each of nutmeg and cinnamon, add the raisins, well-drained with flour, and bake half an hour. The raisins should be seeded before boiling them. This is an excellent cake, cheap, easily made and with a flavor slightly different from any other of its kind.

A New Way With Spinach.

One large cupful of spinach, boiled and run through a sieve. A small cupful of melted Parmesan cheese; a can of artichoke bottoms, half a cupful of cream, one hard-boiled egg and salt and pepper to taste. Mix the spinach with the cheese, chopped egg and enough cream to form a soft paste. Season carefully. Heat the artichoke bottoms in a little milk and water, drain and lay on the bottom of a buttered baking dish. Put a heap of spinach on top of each bottom and bake in the oven for 15 minutes. Serve with melted butter, seasoned with a little lemon juice.

Pineapple Pudding.

Two and three-fourths cups warm water; one-fourth cup cold water; one-third cup corn starch; one-fourth cup sugar; one-fourth teaspoonful salt; one-half can grated pineapple; whites of three eggs. Mix cornstarch, sugar and salt and mix smooth with cold water; add hot water and cook 15 minutes, or until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Remove from stove; add pineapple and stiffly beaten whites of eggs. Pour into molds and when cold serve with custard sauce.

Soft Gingerbread.

Take two eggs, well beat, one coffee cupful of molasses, one teaspoonful of butter and lard mixed, two spoonfuls of ginger, one spoonful of cream of tartar, one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in one-half teaspoonful of milk or water, one-half teaspoonful of salt; flour enough to make the dough as stiff as for a cup-cake. Bake in a slow oven for half an hour.

Mexican Omelet.

One tablespoon butter, one large onion, one can tomatoes drained, one-quarter teaspoon paprika, salt to taste, three eggs beaten, one tablespoon table sauce. Serve on crackers or German rusks.

Syrup for Coughs.

Cut onions in slices and put in a stew pan with a quart of water; add five cents' worth of rock candy and boil down to one pint; give in teaspoonful doses whenever the children cough. It is good.

LATE STYLES IN SANDWICHES

Slight Scrape of Honey on Buttered Bread Is One Novelty Brought From England.

"Among the new sandwiches which English hostesses are serving with an afternoon tea," says the young woman who knows, "there are some recipes new to the majority of Americans."

A slight scrape of honey on buttered bread is one novelty, another being golden sirup used in the same sparing fashion. Another sweet sandwich, which is said to have scored great success, is bread liberally buttered with an intermediary wafer-thin slice of gingerbread.

"This," said a thrifty Englishwoman, "is a very good way of using a dry remnant."

Thin currant bread and butter is exceedingly popular, while among the savory fillings are all sorts of potted and pounded pastes. A new one is shrimp or salmon paste with a wafer-thin slice of cucumber or pickle.

A pretty fringed or laced dolly is laid on every plate of sandwiches, while plain bread and butter is served without a dolly.

Even in summer hot cakes or toast finds abundant appreciation, and, of course, at this season they are especially popular. If toast is served it is liberally buttered and brown bread toast is considered more of a treat than the white. Toasted scones are delightful and rock cakes or biscuits are always popular.

If a soft piece of homemade bread is rubbed on a scorch on woolen goods it will remove it entirely.

Vegetables will take longer to cook, but will be much nicer and of better color if boiled uncovered.

In cleaning painted woodwork it is far better to use a strong kerosene water than any kind of soap.

If a lamp wick moves up and down with difficulty a simple remedy is to pull out a few threads on either side of the wick.

In stitching a hem in a sheet or towel it is much better to turn the stitch back an inch than to tie the threads to fasten it.

It's a good scheme to sew a safety-pin on the waist at the belt line and two hooks on the binding of the skirt. Hook the two together and they will hold firmly.

If chicken is roasted or panned with the broast down instead of up it will be more juicy and tender. It should be turned over ten minutes before it is done to brown.

Clean the soiled lace yoke of your frock by rubbing powdered starch into the lace, let it lie some hours and then brush it out. The starch will absorb the grease and dust.

Burnt Sugar Cake.

One and one-half cups sugar and one-half cup butter beaten together, adding slowly one cup cold water until the sugar is all dissolved; yolks of two eggs; two cups flour; one teaspoon vanilla. Stir the above ingredients together until very light. Then add one-half cup flour with two spoonfuls of baking powder (beat in lightly), and two teaspoons of the caramel. At the last fold in lightly the beaten whites of two eggs.

Reliable Doughnuts.

Two eggs, beaten to a froth; one cup sugar; one cup sour milk (butter-milk makes them better); one good sized teaspoon saleratus; one small nutmeg and some salt; flour enough to handle, that is, roll them out, and cut as soft as can be handled. Have plenty of good hot fat, with a tablespoon of vinegar.

To Clean White Furs.

Half fill a stone jar with white corn meal, place it on the stove and heat the meal as hot as the hand can be borne in it, stirring to prevent the meal from scorching. Put one piece at a time in this, and rub until clean; then beat out the meal with a stick. Heat further if needed for other pieces, as the meal must be hot.

Toasted Cheese Sandwiches.

Make round sandwiches (round loaf is best) with slices of thin sliced cheese the same size of the thin rich bread. Brown butter in chafing dish and fry a good brown. Serve at once on individual plates. Fine for afternoon tea.

Sour Milk Pie.

One cup of very thick sour milk, one cup of raisins chopped fine, one cup of sugar, one-half cup of butter, one egg, one cracker rolled fine, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half clove. Put on stove to thicken. Makes two pies.

Hint About Ironing.

To iron easily dampen the clothes and fold them neatly. Then roll tightly and lay aside for several hours. After this the clothes can be quickly ironed.

Washing China Silk.

After washing a china silk dress, do not hang it out to dry, but roll it up in a cloth for half an hour to absorb most of the moisture, and then iron on the wrong side.

Syracuse Reversible Sulky Plow

The only successful Hillside Sulky made. Will do equally good work on level land or Hillside. No dead or back furrows. Can be used with two or three horses. Equipped with foot trip which operates power lift. The best recommendation for this plow is the man who uses it, and the fact that at public sales it sold at almost the price of a new one.

The OLIVER

was born to produce a reversible plow which should be more easy to manipulate than anything else on the market. Like the Syracuse it has a power lift, is strong and durable, and retains the qualities of the hand Oliver, which are so well known. This plow may be used with two or three horses.

WILL REDUCE LONG SCORING

Barney Demarest Will Introduce New System of Starting Harness Races This Season.

Barney Demarest, well-known trainer and driver of trotting horses, is going to introduce a new system of starting harness races this year, with a view of eliminating the prolonged scoring which mars so many meetings. Believing that better control of the drivers is necessary to accomplish this end, and that such control cannot be obtained when the starter is in the judges' stand, 100 yards away from where the scoring begins, he intends to work from a position fifty yards up the stretch and close by the inside rail. If the horses are bunched and all going level at that point he will give the word "Go!" and the race will be on, though the time will, of course, be taken from the judges' stand. If the horses are not well together he will call them back before they have scored more than about one-half as far as is usual at present.

A great many horses nowadays trot more than an eighth of a mile at their utmost speed in scoring for each heat, thus often exhausting them before the race has begun. Mr. Demarest is confident that this new system will reduce the scoring in races fully fifty per cent.

THINKS FOOTBALL IS SAFER

President Lowell of Harvard University Declares Revised Rules Have Eliminated Much Danger.

President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard declares that the revised football rules have reduced the chances of injuries. The statement was made in connection with his annual report to the board of overseers of the university. In part he said: "The feeling that intercollegiate games of football were too dangerous to life and limb has resulted in an effective revision of the rules. These have not, perhaps, been in operation long enough to produce their ultimate results. It would seem that the teams in some of the colleges have not yet become accustomed to them, but the changes have certainly not made the game a less interesting spectacle, and among the Harvard players, at least, the injuries have been greatly reduced."

Nationality of Players.

Nationality cuts but little figure in the ability of a pitcher. For instance, Addie Joss is a Swiss, Bender an Indian, Walter Johnson a Swede, Walsh an Irishman, Reulbach a German, Coombs a Yankee, and Christy Mathewson is of Scotch descent. And take it through baseball: John Kling is a German, Billy Sullivan, Ira Stevens and Larry McLean, Irish, and Chief Meyers, a full-blooded Indian. Then an all-star infield could be formed of Konetchy, Greek; Lajoie, French; Wagner, German, and Devlin, Irish.

Yankees Meet South Africans.

Drawings for the preliminary rounds in the Dwight F. Davis' International lawn tennis cup contest were made at Sydney, N. S. W., the other day. The American team will play the South Africans, and the winners will meet the English team. The preliminaries must be concluded at a date that will permit the challenge round with the Australian holders of the cup to be played in New Zealand in December.

FARMER LASTS LONGER IN BASEBALL

Cy Young, Dean of Pitchers.

Old Cy Young's wonderful career has been attributed to his having lived on a farm all his life, and it has often been said that farmer boys and small town boys make better ball players than boys from a city. This would be hard to prove, but there is much evidence in favor of the farmer boys. In proportion to the number of farmer and city boys who are stars in the big leagues, the farmer lads have it. There are ten city-bred players to one from a farm or small town, but the number of star players is far less than ten to one in favor of the city.

The world's champion Athletics have almost as many small town and farmer lads as city players. Eddie Collins, Jack Coombs, Frank Baker, Chief Bender, Cy Morgan and Topsy Hartzel were born and reared where bright lights were unknown. There are many other big stars from the country, including Christy Mathewson, Frank Chance, Jeff Overall, Mordecai Brown, Jimmy Sheppard and Frank Schulte.

The greatest and probably the most reasonable argument for the farmer players is that they have greater stamina than city boys. Old Cy doesn't prove that. He is an abnormal athlete, but if a fair test could be made it would probably show that farmer lads last longest.

Cornell's Advisory Committee.

Daniel A. Reed and Henry Schoellkopf were elected the other day alumni members of the Cornell football advisory committee. Reed was head coach of the team last fall.

It is now the open season for baseball predictions.

Jimmy Callahan reports the water is fine at Mineral Wells.

Dick Egan will captain Cincinnati next season. He won the place by his Overall and Willis are the latest to join the band that has quit the national sport.

A fan's idea of nothing to study is an indoor ball score with real baseball games to read about.

Manager Tenney has clinched first sack on the Boston team by firing the two other candidates.

The trouble with most star teams is that the old timers are permitted to remain too long in the game.

Isn't this about the time of year for the wrestlers to decide the world's championship for a consideration?

"Chick" Evans bids fair to become a rival of Walter J. Travis as the globe trotting golfer of the country.

Zbyszko tossed a bomb into the ranks of the Finns in New York when he beat Pitakoff, their best wrestler.

Al Kaufman sold himself for three years for $50,000 and then gave himself away when he became a benedict.

Gotch is planning to tackle Mahomet in a final match. Will it be the champion's exclusive appearance of the season?

It is reported Hughey Madole and Young Jack O'Brien, eastern pugilists, have had a falling out and want to settle it in the ring. They can't be real pugilists.

Jerry Downs, the former Senators' player, who is now with the Columbus team, may be sent to first base the coming season.

Manager Del Howard of the Colonels annexed another former major leaguer to his team, when he signed Pitcher Lindaman.

Jimmy Callahan finds his eye as good as ever when he swings the bat. His friends figure he ought to reach .280 this summer.

When New York sporting writers tell how poor the fighters are in that complacent village it's time for the stranger to steer clear.

This is what Christy Mathewson hands the aspiring twirlers: "Watch the bases and keep your eyes off the picture bats in the boxes."

Officials of the Southern League have adopted their playing schedule for the year. Their season opens April 15 and closes September 16.

Some one says sort legs keep the Japanese from becoming great ball players. How about some of the stars who have played for the Nationals and Americans?

The Rochester club will raise the Eastern league pennant on June 14, and President Chapin has given the date to the Toronto team. This game is one of the plums of the Eastern league season and always draws a big crowd.

SLOW BALL HARDEST TO HIT

Clark Griffith, Manager of Cincinnati Reds, is Ready for Argument With Christy Mathewson.

Clark Griffith, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, takes exception to a recent statement by Christy Mathewson that the slow ball pitcher would not be so effective today as twenty years ago.

"Christy Mathewson," says Griff, "is a slow ball pitcher himself, so his criticism that the tossers of 'teasers' wouldn't be as effective today as they were twenty years ago is not true. Matty's fadeaway and curves are typical slow balls. He also has a fast ball, but if he depended on smoke to win his games he would be knocked off the rubber four games out of five. I agree with Matty that there are no good slow ball pitchers, but the great artists of the past, like Win Mercer, Red Donahue and yours truly (Clark Griffith) would now fool batters easier than we did twelve years ago, when there was only one 8-club league."

"I maintain that the slow ball is hardest to hit, when the slabman really has the stuff. The great batters thrive on speed. Matty himself is the only great slow ball pitcher working in the big leagues today. Matty isn't the brainiest twirler in the game, but he has more stuff than any pitcher, past or present."

WORLD'S RECORD TO DANIELS

New York Athletic Club's Expert Adds One More to His Already Long List of Victories.

College Baseball Captains.

The following corrected list of eastern college baseball captains for the season of 1911 is given here:

Harrison, second base; Navy, V. P. Edwin, second base; Amherst, Eugene Pennock, shortstop; Williams, A. P. Mills, third base; Pennsylvania, W. L. Schultz, pitcher; Cornell, E. B. Wagner, shortstop.

CHARITY AND CHEWING GUM

Disparity That Hardly Seems Creditable to the Generous Instincts of the Race.

According to a statement before a meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Presbytery of Washington an interesting statement regarding the money spent for chewing gum and that given to charity was made. The speaker was Miss Mary W. Kerr of Harrisburg, Pa., in connection with the topic of "Frenzied Finance in Missions." In urging the society to be more liberal in its contributions to charitable work, she said: "For every $3,000 contributed to charity, $17,000 is spent for chewing gum."

The statement passed almost unnoticed except by a few, who saw the pertinence and logic of the remark.

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for women's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and strengthen Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY-ONE PERSONS PERISH IN $100,000 FIRE IN NEW YORK

Victims Nearly All Girls, Crushed on Pavements, Smothered By Smoke or Incinerated.

UPPER FLOORS FLAME SWEEP

Conflagration in Three Top Floors of 10-Story Building Occupied by Triangle Waist Company—Fifty Bodies Found on Ninth Floor, 63 Crushed Lifeless By Leaping.

New York.—One hundred and forty-eight persons, nine-tenths of them girls and young women, employed as shirtwaist makers, perished in a disastrous fire which swept the upper floors of the 10-story loft building at 23 and 25 Washington Place, and in an incredibly short time transformed a quiet by-way of commerce into a blackened canyon of death.

It was the replica of the Newark horror enlarged sevenfold, and this city has had nothing comparable with it since the burning of the Slocum strewed the gates of the sound with more than a thousand dead.

One hundred and forty-one bodies had been removed from the ruins at midnight and seven of the fatally injured had died in hospitals. This, it is believed, completes the list of dead, most of whom are unidentified. Grief-stricken relatives besieged the morgue as the bodies were laid out.

Its cause is to be found somewhere in the flimsy fabric on which some 800 persons were at work, either from a bit of defective insulation, a tip of gas flame or perhaps the spark from a forbidden cigarette. Such a catastrophe, according to the view of Edward F. Croker, chief of the fire department, was due solely to the ineffective laws which do not make mandatory the placing of fire-escapes on the fronts of the structures used as factories.

The building where the fire started is on the northwest corner of Washington Place and Green street, and the block in which it is situated is inclosed on the north by Waverly Place and on the west by Washington Square east. It abuts upon the large structure occupied by the American Book Company and certain schools of the New York University.

The building is occupied by manufacturers of clothing and fur garments of various kinds, the upper three of the 10 stories being given to the Triangle Waist Company, which has on its payroll 800 persons, consisting of cutters and fitters and various operatives, the majority being young women and girls of tender age who operate the machines upon shirtwaists intended for feminine wear this summer. The eighth floor was devoted principally to cutting, and there were also many factory sewing machines. Most of the women were on the ninth floor, back of a wooden partition, with many doors communicating to a narrow corridor, on the other side of which were offices. There were banks of machines on the tenth floor also, as well as shipping and packing rooms and offices of the firm of Messrs. Harris & Blanck.

The partners of the firm, Isaac Harris and Max Blanck, escaped unscathed from the office on the tenth floor, carrying with them over an adjoining roof Blanck's two young daughters and a governess. The doors in the wooden partition on the ninth floor had just been locked and only one means of egress remained from the larger room to the corridor, according to the story of some of the employees. The fire alarm came over the telephone at 40 minutes after 4 o'clock, possibly three or four minutes after a mass of shirtwaists on a line on the eighth floor, burst into a blaze. There was a scurry for water buckets and finally several were found. The efforts of several of the men with the buckets was pitifully ineffectual. Shirtwaists, which had just been completed, hung from rods and lines, and piles of material were here and there. The cries of fire sent the panic of fear through every floor. The tollers lost all reason and rushed frantically out, seeking means of exit. They battered at closed doors on the ninth floor, ran to the remaining opening in a stampede, and hurled themselves into the narrow window, at which was a landing and a frail, single fire-escape. About this one point 30 or 40 bodies were found wedged together in a charred and ghastly pyramid.

There are two passenger elevators in the building, at which the operators were on duty, and they tell stories of numerous trips up and down with women and girls. The two proprietors were giving orders that the men and boys should use the stairways, of which there were two. There were also two freight elevators, which, as far as could be learned, were not in commission at the time. Other means of egress were the stairs leading to the roof, both of which were broad and strong, and at the top of the flight was a large floor which was easily opened by those who went in that direction.

Theoretically the employees, calm and well poised through frequent fire drills, should have used these methods of escape. The most of them staggered over machines and chairs, cut off from flight by the flames, which were converting the stairs into a fiery flue. There were others who were stifled where they sat at their machines or were flung suffocated to the floor to be trodden upon. Women and girls terror maddened, raised the windows seeking air and aid. Back of them was roaring tophet, before their death in the brick-walled abyss. Some made the choice, others were in-

PECULIAR AFTER EFFECTS OF GRIP THIS YEAR.

Leaves Kidneys in Weakened Condition

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to more serious sickness, such as dreaded Bright's Disease. Local druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, free by mail, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 50 cts. and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.

Here's a tip, young man. Convince a girl that she shouldn't love you, and she will.

Perhaps Not. An instructor in a church school where much attention was paid to sacred history, dwelt particularly on the phrase "And Enoch was not, for God took him." So many times was this repeated in connection with the death of Enoch that he thought even the dullest pupil would answer correctly when asked in examination: State in the exact language of the Bible what is said of Enoch's death. But this was the answer he got: "Enoch was not what God took him for."—Brooklyn Life.

FREE SAMPLE OF LAXATIVE CURED THEIR CONSTIPATION

When a person has become discouraged through years of failure to find a cure, and finally, perhaps, gives up trying, it is small wonder that he becomes skeptical. And yet, to all who have constipation, we would say, "Try just one thing more." We wish you would try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a laxative tonic that has been used for a generation. Thousands are using it; surely some of your friends among the number. You can buy it of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, but better still, send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell for a free sample bottle. He will send you enough to convince you of its merits, and then if you like it you can buy it of your druggist. Mr. J. J. Petty of Unionville, Mo., Mr. George W. Zimmerman of Harrisburg, Pa., and many others of both sexes and in all parts of the country have used a sample bottle and now have it regularly in the house. You will learn to do away with salts, waters and cathartics for these are but temporary relief. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is guaranteed to cure permanently. It will train your stomach and bowel muscles so that they will do their work again naturally without outside aid. Cast aside your skepticism and try Syrup Pepsin. For the free sample address Dr. W. H. Caldwell, 201 Caldwell Building, Monticello, Ill.

WHEN THE FIRE WAS AT ITS HEIGHT

The scene of the fire was a ten-story brick-and-stone structure at Washington Place and Greene street.

The single fire-escape inside the building reached only to the seventh floor.

Fifteen hundred persons employed by manufacturing concerns occupied the lower floors.

The three upper floors—the eighth, ninth and tenth—were occupied by the Triangle Waist Company, makers of women's waists and coats, who employ 750 women.

When the fire department reached the scene every window on the upper three floors was crowded with faces of those cut off from escape.

Flames and smoke were rolling out the windows of the eighth floor.

The extension ladders of the fire department could not reach to the upper windows.

Scores of women leaped out the windows with clothing aflame or already burned off.

The impact of the bodies tore the life-saving nets to shreds.

Falling girls collided in the air or descended in groups.

ton Square east. It abuts upon the large structure occupied by the American Book Company and certain schools of the New York University.

The building is occupied by manufacturers of clothing and fur garments of various kinds, the upper three of the 10 stories being given to the Triangle Waist Company, which has on its payroll 800 persons, consisting of cutters and fitters and various operatives, the majority being young women and girls of tender age who operate the machines upon shirtwaists intended for feminine wear this summer. The eighth floor was devoted principally to cutting, and there were also many factory sewing machines. Most of the women were on the ninth floor, back of a wooden partition, with many doors communicating to a narrow corridor, on the other side of which were offices. There were banks of machines on the tenth floor also, as well as shipping and packing rooms and offices of the firm of Messrs. Harris & Blanck.

The partners of the firm, Isaac Harris and Max Blanck, escaped unscathed from the office on the tenth floor, carrying with them over an adjoining roof Blanck's two young daughters and a governess. The doors in the wooden partition on the ninth floor had just been locked and only one means of egress remained from the larger room to the corridor, according to the story of some of the employees. The fire alarm came over the telephone at 40 minutes after 4 o'clock, possibly three or four minutes after a mass of shirtwaists on a line on the eighth voluntarily hurled off the window ledges by the crazed and stifling mob at their backs clamoring for air.

In two and three the women and girls dropped from the window sills hurled through the air and fell to the pavements, where they lay a shattered mass of riven flesh and protruding bones. The sound of the fearful impacts, which came like a hail of death, caused men to hide their faces and women spectators to sink to their knees on the flags and moan over the tragedy to which they had given unwilling witness.

The responses to the first alarm of fire had been prompt and efficient, and soon the street was gorged with engines, trucks and towers which followed each other with precision to the fourth alarm.

The ladders of the fire Department would reach only to the seventh floor, but before the firemen could get even that far scores had gone to their death on the flagging of the street.

It was the carnage of battle which filled those short blocks in Washington Place and Green street. The women employees hurled themselves by twos and threes to their doom, some descending with hair and clothing ablaze. Here was the valley of the shadow of death, where had been a mart of humdrum trade. There was no time to perform the offices of the dead, for uncovered they lay with their faces to the sky.

How the fire started will, perhaps, never be known. A corner on the eighth floor was its point of origin and the three upper floors only were swept.

Colds and Chills Bring Kidney Ills

February, March and April are the backache months, because they are months of colds, chills, grip and pneumonia, with their congesting, weakening influence on the kidneys. Colds, chills, or grip strain the kidneys and start backache, urinary disorders and uric acid troubles. You feel lame, weak and tired and have headache, dizzy feelings, achy muscles and joints; too frequent, painful urinary passages, sediment, etc. Chills hurt the kidneys. Likewise well kidneys often prevent taking cold, by helping to pass off the waste matters of cold congestion. Doan's Kidney Pills are very useful in the raw winter and spring months. They stop backache and urinary disorders, keep the kidneys well and prevent colds from settling on the kidneys. Strong testimony proves it. What better evidence could you ask?

SWORN TESTIMONY—CONVINCING PROOF

HAD BUT A SHORT TIME TO LIVE. At Least So Thought Prominent New Hampshire Man.

Ex-County Commissioner J. Albert Peaslee, of Bradford, N. H., makes the following sworn statement: "In 1903 I first noticed that my back was growing weak. Then I was obliged to get up often during the night to pass the urine. I had my doctor make an analysis and he gave me to understand that I had not long to live. In a short time my weight had fallen 40 pounds and my skin was taking on a waxy look. The thirst was terrible and the urine seemed heavy as maple sap. After using two or three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, I felt better so I continued their use. Today I weigh 215 pounds and although I am 63 years old, I bet there is not a man in town of over 40 who is sounder than I. I have not had the slightest sign of kidney trouble in three years." J. ALBERT PEASLEE, (Signed) "Personally appeared J. Albert Peaslee and made oath that the above certificate signed by him is true." FRED H. GOULD, Notary Public, Bradford, N. H., Apr. 6, 1908.

ALMOST A MIRACLE. Health Completely Restored After Case Was Pronounced Incurable.

Mrs. J. Tilghman Wright, 519 Goldsborough St., Easton, Md., says: "I cannot begin to describe my suffering from Bright's disease. I constantly felt as if I were dying. My back pained me intensely and was so weak that for weeks I could not walk across the floor. My condition became critical and physicians pronounced me incurable. I started taking Doan's Kidney Pills as a last resort and soon received relief. When I began with them I weighed only 64 pounds. I now weigh 109 pounds, and feel like a new woman. I can do all my work without distress and give Doan's Kidney Pills the full credit for my cure."

The parlor, library, and dining room of the Presbyterian Manse have been thoroughly renovated. Beautiful paper of excellent quality and late patterns, with a picture rail in parlor and dining room, adorns the walls. The woodwork has received two coats of white paint and one of white enamel. The whole effect is most inviting. The pastor is highly gratified by this evidence of a desire to minister to his comfort.
